COOKIE POLICY

We use cookies and other technologies on this website to improve its performance and enhance users' experiences. This policy explains how we do that.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files placed by web servers on your computer or mobile device. They are created when you use your browser to visit a website that uses cookies to keep track of your movements within the site, help you resume where you left off, remember your registered login, language selection, preferences, and other customization functions.

We maintain a list of cookies that we use on this site and we update the list at least annually.

We use cookies to:

Compile aggregate data about site traffic and site interactions in order to offer better site experiences and tools in the future. We may also use trusted third party services that track this information on our behalf.

You can choose to have your computer warn you each time a cookie is being sent, or you can choose to turn off all cookies. You do this through your browser (like Internet Explorer/Mozilla/Chrome etc.) settings. Each browser is a little different, so look at your browser's Help menu to learn the correct way to modify your cookies or go to <http://www.allaboutcookies.org/manage-cookies>.

If you turn cookies off, some features will be disabled. It will affect your user experience that makes your site experience more efficient and some of our services may not function properly.

We do not display behaviorally-targeted advertising on this website

Where can I get more information about cookies?

More information about cookies is available at www.allaboutcookies.org.
